Cat Stevens' "On the Road to Find Out" captures the essence of the High School experience. Seniors, think back over what you've been through. As a Sophomore, you spent half the year finding out about W-L: Where's the office? the bathroom? the library? the elevator? Why do Seniors always win the spirit stick? As Juniors, you enjoyed the scenery along the road as you drove the family car to football games, dances, and parties. Class rings made for sore fingers as you got 77 turns, and then the magical 78th. Then, looking down the road, you started preparing for the future through PSAT's, SAT's, and occupational tests and studying very, very hard. Finally came the Senior year and its privileges. You left first at assemblies, voted on the Homecoming King and Queen, held a talent show, and went to the Prom. As graduation came upon you, you could not help but look beyond Quincy Street and Washington Boulevard. Despite your fears, you have been preparing for the future by visiting colleges, browsing through catalogues, consulting Guidance, filling out applications, and getting job interviews. Now it's time to put your plans into gear. You are "on the road to find out."

FACULTY and ACADEMICS —

“Fac and Ac” — It rhymes, but what does it mean? Besides student life, sports, and organizations, W-L also offers a chance for students to learn! Education does not just happen, it takes planning and co-operation. The faculty must meet with the administrators to reach decisions — Who will be on cafeteria patrol? What time do teachers report to school? What is the attendance procedure for 1977-1978? Classrooms need equipment if education is to take place. Projectors and screens are needed for films. Social Studies needs books. Business classes need typewriters that work! Students are involved in the process, of course. They must go to class, read the material, do exercises, and study. The supporting services of W-L guidance counselors, the attendance office, the cafeteria workers, the secretaries — all help students and teachers to get through all the work that must be accomplished in a year. How is this accomplishment measured? The ultimate, most dreaded form of measurement is the . . .

In some classes a final product can measure achievement. The product might be a song, in music; a meal, in home economics; a piece of macramé, in art; a car that runs, in auto mechanics.

measured by the written test —

In science class

. . . . a student's achievement is measured two ways — by a written test, as well as by a final product — the results of a laboratory exercise. A precipitate, the discovery of an unknown in chemistry, or a formula in physics tells whether or not a student has mastered the scientific principles involved.

CAREER

Finally, the mind and the body are in tune and the student is actively storing knowledge for his future use. Each student who goes through W-L really has a chance to explore his future opportunities. One of the best places for the job-oriented students to explore and to gain on-the-job training is at the

Dr. W. J. Sharbaugh, Principal

Dear Seniors,

The high school years have a very special and significant place in a person's life. It is a time of growing, a time of fun, a time of sadness, a time of happiness, but most of all, it is a time of learning.

During the years of high school you become young men and women, prepared to accept your places in the world as productive members of society. The responsibility that is being placed on you is heavy as our expectations for you are high.

We at Washington-Lee feel confident that you have the necessary skills to meet the challenges that the years ahead hold for you and wish you well as you begin to meet them.

Sincerely,
Dr. Sharbaugh

ON THE ROAD TO FIND OUT

Well, I left my happy home to see what I could find out. I left my folk and friends with the aim to clear my mind out. Well I hit the rowdy road, and many kinds I met there, many stories told me of the way to get there, oob. So on and on I go, the seconds tick the time out, there's so much left to know, and I'm on the road to findout, oob. Well in the end I'll know, but on the way I wonder through descending snow, and through the frost and thunder, I listen to the wind come howl, telling me I have to hurry. I listen to the robin's song saying not to worry, oob. So on and on I go, the seconds tick the time out, there's so much left to know, and I'm on the road to findout, oob. Then I found myself alone, hoping someone would miss me. Thinking about my home, and the last woman to kiss me, kiss me. But some times you have to moan when nothing seems to suit yer, but nethertheless you know you're locked towards the future, oob. So on and on you go, the seconds tick the time out. There's so much left to know, and I'm on the road to findout, oob. Then I found my head one day when I wasn't even trying, and here I have to say 'cause there is no use in lying, lying. Yes the answer lies within, so why not take a look now, kick out the devil's sin, and pick up, pick up a good book now, oob. Yes, the answer lies within, so why not take a look now, kick out the devil's sin, pick up, pick up a good book now, oob. Yes the answer lies within, so why not take a look now kick out the devil's sin, and pick up, pick up a good book now, oob.
